

Thank you for your interest in classes at Perth Studio Potters.

We are a not-for-profit organisation run by volunteers and we may not always be able to reply to your enquiry as quickly as we would like so we do apologise for any delays.

If you would like to be on the expression of interest list for upcoming classes please send an email to classes@perthstudiopotters.org.au and we will be able to notify you when vacancies arise.

All class times and schedules can be found here : <http://www.perthstudiopotters.org.au/classes>

Our classes are conducted by professional practising Ceramic Artists in an equipped Studio at 1 Burt St COTTESLOE WA. There are 4 Terms per year on a *8 week cycle (*unless there are public holidays)

Class Fees per Term is $360, which is payable in advance online through TryBooking via a link that is emailed to you by the studio class coordinator.

The same class is attended each week, unfortunately we cannot offer make up sessions for missed classes.

Our classes are a mixed level of students ranging from total beginners and intermediate or the more experienced potter. All are welcome to learn the skill and use of the pottery wheel with clay as well as but not limited to a wide variety of work methods and hand building techniques explored during each session.

Firings and glazes are included but you will need to pay for clay, which you can buy from the selection we have available at our studio. Stoneware Clay prices range between $20-$50

Unfortunately, we do not offer gift vouchers, group or future bookings for classes as we cannot know how many vacancies may be coming up every term due to our current students having first option to re-enrol.

Other places that you might enquire for pottery classes include Fremantle Art Centre, Claymake Studio and StudioP.
